Precor EFX 556i Elliptical Review

Elliptical machines are now the most popular and recommended way of getting a great non impact workout. The Precor EFX 556i is one of the machines you can buy for your home that is gym quality and is sure to give you the workout options you want. It has both a forward and backward elliptical stride and adjustable resistance to make your workout as varied as you want it. The machine is not as expensive as the Octane elliptical machines but it is a good alternative if you want a slightly less expensive machine.
